A FLOK SONG

SS 24

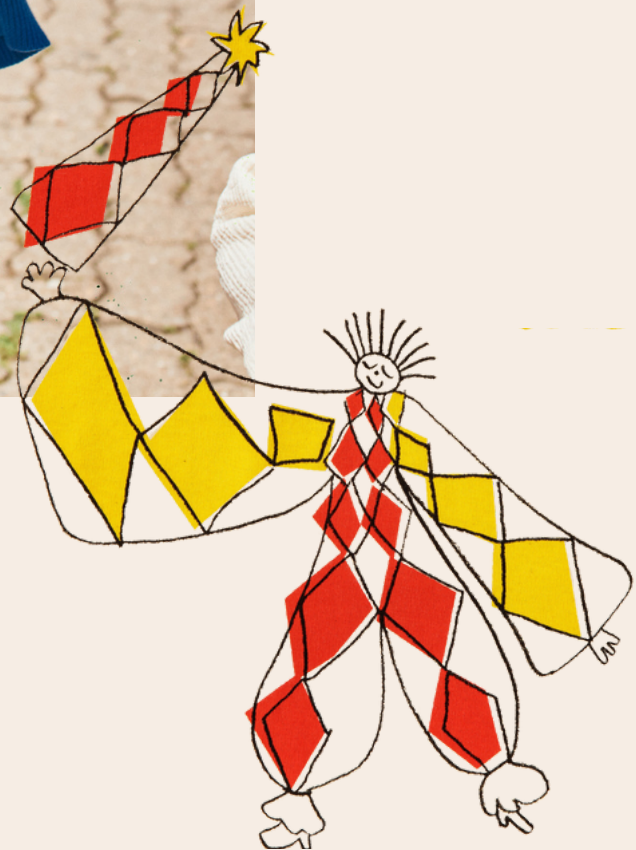

Come gather young children, it's festival time with its folklore and mystery, old masks and rhymes. Put on your best clothes and take a walk down through the colorful streets to the center of town.

we'll light a huge
bonfire & sing all
night long

we'll all dance
together

the elders will share with us tales from the past

tradition, young kids is a treasure to cherish.

may its whole magic &
charm never perish.
